Prospective Participant Application Package

Thank you for your interest in The Journey Project! It is a privilege to consider your application, and we hope that The Journey Project is a good match for what you are seeking for the next steps of transformation and transition in your life. The Journey Project is not for everyone, so please review this application in detail and be sure you are able to submit with confidence and in full agreement with all that will be asked of you.

The Journey Project is not just a "release address." For those just needing an address to submit to get an approved release plan (as much as we do understand that need) The Journey Project is not available for that use. We require full program participation and anyone who releases to The Journey Project but does not take part in the actual program services will be discharged and removed from our program which would mean the loss of any housing we provided and a potential violation of your DOC release requirements.

We are not a church; However, we do hold a weekly house/spiritual meeting of which spirituality may be of discussion and all are required to attend. We will not be engaging in debates of dogma, doctrine, or denomination. It is not our place to define your spiritual walk, but to encourage you to mature into your understanding and walking it out.

The Journey Project is also not for those who have become suddenly religious just to get released, or for those who have become mired down in religious ritual or dogma instead of focused on real life change.

The Journey Project provides the opportunity for those desiring to create a new future, who want to turn a positive system of beliefs into positive ways of action, and who want to live out a renewed life. We will support you, encourage you, provide you with tools for inner personal change, and give you places to put those tools to work. You will plan the work of transformation and work that plan in ongoing transition. We will hold you accountable and even more importantly we will help you learn how to hold yourself accountable. All this so your success continues long after you complete The Journey Project's program.

If this sounds like what you are looking for, please complete the attached package, in full, and submit your application in a timely manner. Be aware that space is limited so those applications showing the most serious levels of commitment will be considered as a priority.

Again, our thanks for your interest in The Journey Project. We hope to meet you soon!

Welcome to The Journey Project

Transformation for your life. Transition for your future.

What is The Journey Project All About?

The Journey Project is a spiritual based, educational, human service program. The Journey Project provides tools, support, and resources for positive change through practical life skills, housing, support services, and assistance in successful pro-social integration.

The Journey Project helps participants first transform their lives and then transition into the greater community by taking personal responsibility toward a positive, productive, and purpose-filled future.

The Goal

The goal is to help individuals find their own life goals and vision then set up a plan to achieve them while creating a pro-social place in the community.

Our Philosophy

Every individual is responsible for one's own life, that ultimately only everyone can change their own circumstances, behaviors, thinking, and future. That everyone is an individual and should be treated as such and everyone is a whole person... mind, spirit, and body.

What Exactly Does All That Mean

Transformation and Transition: At the core of The Journey Project's approach is the method of making long-term goals and shorter-term goals and to reach those goals. Changes can be realized by the outcomes of what our choices produce in our lives and by understanding how various choices affect benefits or risks. Small but steady steps, over time, create success that opens new possibilities for even greater progress, sequentially, creating a life that is consistent with one's goals.

In a practice of constantly taking stock of where we are, and where we need to go next, students know what they need to do, every day, to keep moving forward toward life goals. Goals are not only set but realized. This sets Journey Project apart from other programs that merely tell students to make progress. The Journey Project helps one define their progress, breaking it down into a specific plan that says what you are doing, why you are doing it, and how you can get it done. The Journey Project measures your progress in terms of life outcomes – not what you say you are doing, or what you say you would like to do, but rather by what you are doing and by what you have accomplished.

A self-motivated program raises the bar with respect to expectation from our students. We do expect that you set and achieve specific life goals, but we are here step by step to help you access the knowledge, the tools, and the resources to obtain the achievement you have set for yourself.

SPIRITUAL CREED

The Journey Project emphasizes the importance of cultivating a positive personal spirituality as a vital tool for fostering inner goodness. We believe in discovering and adhering to a moral compass that promotes self-love and love for others. By finding your place within the spiritual community, you can build positive, pro-social friendships and a sense of belonging. We support and encourage spiritual paths that lead to wise decisions, benefiting your own life, enriching your loved ones, and uplifting the broader community.

Student Housing Program: The Journey Project provides fully furnished shared housing units for all male Students/Participants. Usually there are two occupants per unit at Pacific Village and one large unit that fits three people. Each unit at Pacific Village has its own kitchen and bathroom facilities. Laundry services are available on site. The Journey Project housing is a friendly and pleasant community where you can focus on moving your life forward and need not be concerned about any "stigma" attached to a criminal conviction (If applicable). We do not deny anyone because of their criminal history. We are drug/alcohol free and harassment free. We provide the benefit of establishing a residential history.

We cannot over express... if you have any difficulty with anyone's past this is not the place for you.

Case Management Sessions: Each participant will be required to meet with the Program Manager or Case Manager once a week to discuss goals and weekly assignments. This will be a good time to bring up anything pertaining to the program.

Vocational Skill Training: Vocational Skill Training provides work readiness training for the eventual transition into the non-program work force. Also available is job placement assistance through a network of partnered companies, organizations and/or schools. During this time, you will also be guided in developing a plan for obtaining a career rather than just working a job.

Work Skills Training: For those not yet employed The Journey Project provides, on a case-by-case basis, Work Skills Training in a variety of fields. If you enroll into the Work Skills Program you will receive a $4.00 per hour housing stipend for the hours assigned, which will be applied towards your program fees and helps establish the financial needs for building a life in the community.

Supervision Compliance Plan (if applicable): An essential priority is meeting the requirements of your J&S, Community Placement, Probation, or Parole and to help ensure that you avoid any post-release violations. We will review your requirements with you, help you establish a compliance plan, and assist you in accessing any resources needed (classes, therapy, etc.)

Remember... you are untimely responsible for adhering to your requirements.

Case Management: Every student is unique and therefore each student receives individualized confidential case management comprised of one-on-one sessions with an assigned Case Manager and/or case team meetings. You will ascertain your needs, create a transition plan, make life goals, and continuously review your ongoing progress. You are responsible for creating goals and making sure that your experience with The Journey Project provides you with what you need to succeed. Everyone is treated as an individual according to one's needs. Not everyone will be doing the same thing or treated in the same way.

Financial Accountability Management: Detailed financial accountability is required throughout your term of enrollment. Financial control reverts to students increasingly on a case-by-case basis. Financial management skills are evaluated by an ongoing comprehensive review of how and where funds are acquired and disbursed. Mastery of skills throughout the duration of The Journey Project program include building financial capital, ensuring that fees are paid, and that funds are set aside for necessary attainments (Transportation, communications, household needs, clothes, entertainment, etc.) and building a respectable credit rating.

Understanding Your Expectations

What Journey Project Expects of Students: The Journey Project is not a "free ride." Students do pay for program services and progress is expected to maintain enrollment. You must be honest with yourself before enrolling. If you have no real desire to do more than just talk about change then The Journey Project is not for you. Do not waste your time or that of The Journey Project

The Journey Project transition program is a three-phase program. Each phase has predetermined goals which must be accomplished to advance to the next phase. Also, each phase has requirements for maintaining the phase level and/or avoiding being dropped to a lower phase. Privileges increase with each level achieved. New participants start at phase one.

To reduce reentry anxieties and sensory overload; and to provide support, each new participant will be limited to essential travel only and be provided chaperoned transportation for all essential trips for the first thirty days. During that time, we will be assisting you in getting connected with essential services, and assuring you get off to a good start. We will also be assisting you with preparing to start job searching and securing employment.

The Journey Project is an outcomes-based program and therefore it is not possible to just "go through the motions." Your progress will be regularly assessed. We expect students to have evidence of a personal desire for life change by demonstrating an ongoing commitment to maintaining a positive pro-social lifestyle and achievement of one's goals. We also expect honest participation in our supportive and ongoing assessment process. You are responsible for your own transition.

What Students Can Expect from The Journey Project: Just as we expect you to commit to the change process, you can expect that The Journey Project will be there to help. Students should expect support, encouragement, practical and realistic help, useful instruction, referral and access to available services, individualized case management, acceptance, and interaction in a friendly and warm program community, help to maintain post-release compliance requirements, and assistance in ultimately transitioning to the greater public community.

Additional Journey Project Services

Community Dinner: All students are required to attend the monthly Community Dinner. This is a time to enjoy good food, good company, positive socialization with program supporters and others from the community. As well as talking about topics of interest both inside and outside of The Journey Project program.

Events: Periodic group events are made available, whether a BBQ, trip to the movies, or visiting to a local attraction or venue, to build positive socialization experiences and help encourage the process of community integration.

Volunteer: Participants are occasionally asked to do various tasks. To build work skills, work ethics, and community responsibility, each participant must complete sixteen hours a month of volunteer work toward the beautification and maintenance of the Journey Project properties. Failure to participate in volunteer work may result in fines and/or termination from the program.

Leadership Opportunities: Leadership opportunities are open to those who want to become part of the eventual operation of The Journey Project program.

Some trips may not be required if work or DOC requirements are prescheduled per your case manager.

Program Service Fee

Students/Participants are required to pay a program fee for housing and services.

The fee schedule is as follows, which covers housing and programming. Those qualifying for the DOC Voucher will pay $700.00 as per voucher. When the voucher ends the Program Fee is our normal amount which is located below in the table. The only additional expense is food and the electric bill which is split between those living in that apartment. The average electric bill is about $30.00 per person for each billing. You are responsible for obtaining your own food. Food stamp and food bank help is available.

DOC Voucher			$700.00
Non-Voucher	Double/Triple Occupancy		$850.00
Single Occupancy	1 Bedroom	[Non LRA]	$1,731.00
Single Occupancy	Studio	[Non LRA]	$1,731.00
Single Occupancy		[ALL LRA]	$2,100.00

DO NOT EVER ANTICIPATE A SINGLE OCCUPANCY OR 1 BEDROOM BEING AVAILABLE

All LRA's program fees are $2,100.00 per month. When LRA is completed, the program fee will become in line according to the Non LRA program fees. If for any reason an LRA is in a 1 or 2-bedroom occupancy, the occupant will receive a roommate.
